

This is not intended as a cut-and-paste table of contents, since I'm uncomfortable putting in the whole K-5 poem routine. So, these are just notes. If you have a syllabus, you'll know what I'm talking about.

On the first right hand page, start your table of contents. I write big and this thing grows over years, so on the first page spread, put page 1 on the right. That will give you a front and back for Table of Contents.

After that, number all of the pages. The last back page should be 90.
